Success

"When looking for the best position that combined my very specific experience within both Financial Services and Artificial Intelligence Automation; Luke reached out to me. He had been working with WorkFusion, a US based Fintech, and he believed that I was a good fit. Luke's approach was heartfelt, very knowledgeable about his client and he did not shy away from giving me the plusses and minuses of their culture. It was, as Luke promised, a fantastic fit for me. Luke was always available to me to reach out to regardless of our five hour time difference. I have worked internationally my entire career and this type of colleague is the kind that understands how to "bridge the pond".

I could not be more grateful to Luke for his professionalism and hard work; he has made an impression on me that I will never forget and I will always send my colleagues his way when they are looking for a new professional "home"."
